(Id: 10009) [&AyanAAA=] - Do you need assistance? For those purposes, the mentioned method in-game is preferred. PvP game link[edit] Skill link[edit] Specifies the three byte skill (including effects, buffs, and abilities) identifier. Revenant The layout of the profession specific data for Revenants. (Id: 10008) [&AxknAAA=] - Any news? It describes the type of the link: Notes ^ a b Currently disabled. Examples[edit] - Apprentice Coat (Id: 4) 0x0A codes are documented using the skin infobox on the wiki. The quantity of items is encoded as a single byte immediately following the header byte, before the three byte item ID. Shows a specific achievement. Examples[edit] Wardrobe skin link[edit] Specifies the three byte wardrobe skin identifier. When there's only one upgrade, regardless of which upgrade slot's flag is used, the game will always show the first slot in use. Examples[edit] - Aegis (Id: 743) - Fireball (Id: 5491) - Meteor Shower (Id: 5501) Trait link[edit] Specifies the three byte trait identifier. (If that is truly the case then the byte should be kept all zeroes to avoid unexpected behavior should the game decide to make use of it in the future.) Link type details[edit] Coin link[edit] The layout of chat codes for coins. Divide the number by 100 to get the amount in silver and by 10,000 to get the amount in gold . The examples below demonstrate this. The first byte after 0x0D specifies the character's profession: 01 - Guardian 02 - Warrior 03 - Engineer 04 - Ranger 05 - Thief 06 - Elementalist 07 - Mesmer 08 - Necromancer 09 - Revenant Following that are 3 pairs of 2 bytes describing the character's specializations. It appears that the game currently ignores the value of this last byte, even if it is not zero. After that, there are 10 sets of 2 bytes containing skill information. The creation of such links requires knowledge about the internal identifiers and involves a fair amount of calculation. Notes[edit] Some item chat links will appear to not work correctly. (e.g. gold for guild chat, blue for party chat, etc.) Examples[edit] [&AxknAAA=] - Fight what cannot be fought. (Id: 10016) See Chat link format/0x03 codes for a list of the documented codes. The game will not translate such a code into a link. Living World Season 1 episodes will be free additions to the core game and available to all players, permanently. For example, the code [&DQg1OSc5AjkAAAAAmQEAAjKBAAAAA]kBAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA=] represents a build template with 3 Epidemic utility skills, 2 terrestrial and 1 aquatic, but when pasted into the chat the game echoes back the code verbatim. The first episode of Living World Season 1, "Flame and Frost," is now playable in Guild Wars 2 for the first time since 2013, along with new and returning rewards and new achievements. Examples[edit] See Chat link format/0x04 codes for a list of the documented codes. Examples[edit] [&AQAAAA=] - 0 [&AQEAAAA=] - 1 [&AdsnAAA=] - 1 2 3 [&Af///8=] - 429496 72 95 Item link[edit] The layout of chat codes for items. Ranger The layout of the profession specific data for Rangers. ^ Automatically generated by the client For most link types, the header is followed by the ID as a (likely unsigned) 3-byte (24bit) little-endian integer, then by a byte of all zeroes. Note that the identifiers specified in API:2/www/objects are of the form -. For other classes those 16 bytes are unused. Each byte represents a pet ID resolvable against /v2/pets in the following order: Terrestrial Pet 1 Terrestrial Pet 2 Aquatic Pet 1 Aquatic Pet 2 The other 12 profession-specific bytes are unused. They are saved with 2 bytes per skill, in the following order: Inactive Terrestrial Legend skill 1 Inactive Terrestrial Legend skill 2 Inactive Terrestrial Legend skill 3 Inactive Aquatic Legend skill 1 Inactive Aquatic Legend skill 2 Inactive Aquatic Legend skill 3 The actual C++ struct definition used to serialize build template links has been posted by Daniel Snider on the official forums. Examples[edit] - Opening Strike (Id: 1010) See Chat link format/0x07 codes for a list of the documented codes. A link is enclosed within single square brackets and preceded by an ampersand, for example [&AgEAWgAA] will render a link for the Basic Salvage Kit. This causes the item code to have a variable length and the location of each part to shift. Examples[edit] See Chat link format/0x0C codes for a list of the documented codes. The IDs here are provided in little-endian format and refer to internal skill palette IDs. In order, each 16-bit value represents the following skills: Terrestrial Heal Skill Aquatic Heal Skill Terrestrial Utility Skill 1 Aquatic Utility Skill 1 Terrestrial Utility Skill 2 Aquatic Utility Skill 2 Terrestrial Utility Skill 3 Aquatic Utility Skill 3 Terrestrial Elite Skill Aquatic Elite Skill It is not possible to place the same skill in multiple terrestrial or aquatic slots. Internally, these links are represented by a special text command that can be embedded manually. Currently disabled. Outfit link[edit] Specifies the three byte outfit identifier. Examples[edit] Wardrobe skins and upgrades[edit] Additional data, such as the item ID of an attached upgrade component or wardrobe skin ID can be added by adding flags to the byte after the base item id. Build template link[edit] The layout of chat codes for builds. User link[edit] Currently disabled. The first 16 bytes contain the GUID, the rest is the character name in UTF-16LE followed by two null bytes as terminator. The first two bits of this byte are unused. Often this is because in order for the chat code to work, the item must actually be in the player's inventory. Example:[edit] The layout of chat codes for users. If the ID has been set in an infobox on any page, then the search page will redirect you to the item with the matching ID, pressing the "back" button in your browser will return you to the results prior to being redirected. Ranger build links will additionally include 4 more bytes, each describing the pets they have equipped. Welcome to the official Wiki, the comprehensive reference written and maintained by the players. Revenant build links will additionally include 16 more bytes.
